With us being in the middle of summer it is timely to share the National Parks Trailblazing pictorial postmark. It is still available having been extended through September 9, 2017, to request one by mail. The USPS with the Smithsonian National Postal Museum is having their Smithsonian National Postal Museum Station.

From the July 06, 2017 USPS Postal Bulletin.

To read full details about how to send off for this Pictorial Postmark and the others listed in the Postal Bulletin click here.

This is one I've got to send off with using my National Park Service Forever stamps on it!

They are still available online at USPS.com to order. Enjoy!

If National Parks are sounding familiar, last year we covered the National Park Service Forever Stamps June 2016 and National Parks Centennial Stamps released.

Anchors Aweigh,

Helen
