We are wrapping up a month of letter writing themed topics today with August 2017 AnchoredScraps Daily Blog Recap. The month included celebrating the Total Eclipse of the Sun with letter writing Pictorial Postmarks Challenge.

It is important to note the month of August sadly saw the arrival of Hurricane Harvey in Texas last weekend.

First, it has become the tradition to include the month recap of postings in case wanting to revisit or missed a blog post or two and now catching up.

In addition, we usually mention new blog formatting design items since last month. This is the second monthly recap to include the PDF buttons.

Furthermore, it was a lot of fun to reach the 900th daily blog post milestone on August 13th!
